

Recovery in Belgium

Recovery in our school : a large concept

Give students a chance to recover:

- those who have previously dropped out of school can find their way again with the help of various pathways
- those who live with a disability we try to support in order to be able to work with it
- those who fled their country, we want to support them here to find their way. (OKAN)

HIVSET Recovery in nursing education

All students :

- lessons about 'Recovery'
- teaching by experience experts
- visit mental hospitals and projects about recovery
- internship in a mental hospital and projects about recovery

Students mental health :

- Working with the City of Turnhout to break the taboo and stigmatization and work on resilience.
- Sensitize traders to place a resilient quote on the shop window.

De Kringwinkel: working on employment

All products from De Kringwinkel have a story, just like everyone else who is employed by us.

We use the income from our sales to give people who have little or no chance on the regular labour market a suitable job.

In this way, they gain experience and a future perspective.

"Exactly resilience is what MOOOV Film Festival wants to emphasize this year," says artistic director Marc Boonen. "In spite of all the setbacks and misery, the characters in the films are full of resilience."

The closing film of MOOOV Film Festival 2020 is Rocks, by Sarah Gavron. A social-realistic portrait of a British-Nigerian fifteen year old girl and her little brother. The picture is balancing between drama and humour, full of life and resilience.

Behind The Scenes Jury Award at Mooov Film Festival in the prison of Merksplas

Each year, a group of freedom deprived men in the prison of Merksplas are responsible for choosing The Behind The Scenes Jury Award at MOOOV Film Festival. Prisoners of different ages, from different cultural and social backgrounds, speaking different languages, discuss the films shown. Some directors go to the prison to present their films and explain the making process.
